

Crayon Colors

Identifying colors and color names

Trace and color.

A great way to help your child recognize colors and color words is to create a color collage. For example, write the color word RED with a crayon of that color (red) on a large piece of posterboard. Look through old magazines and catalogs with your child for pictures of red objects. Cut them out and glue them on the posterboard. Make a poster for each color.